Framed Art Message Centers

The roles of framed art and mirrors as interior appointments continue to expand as recreation vehicle designs reflect more of the amenities at home. Our selection of custom built message centers can be as varied as the interior designers' tastes. These new products, when wall mounted near the entrance door can serve several functions. They are a quick, yet very convenient location for messaging, envelope, atlas, and mail storage. In the frame itself, a location can be designed for hidden document storage. The mirror section allows for last minute personal inspection. All of these useful functions can be an inexpensive part of any interior design.
